Dear Christa McAuliffe Community:

On this Thursday, 12/13/2018, Asian-American families and community groups – including the Christa McAuliffe PTO - will announce an important update in the legal fight against Mayor Bill de Blasio's changes to New York's Discovery Program for the New York City Specialized High Schools.

At a press conference, affected families and community groups will describe how they are affected by the changes and announce their plan to fight back. Afterward, there will be a community meeting to discuss the issues, including discrimination against Asian-Americans, with plenty of time for Q&A.

We would like to urge our impacted members and their friends and families to attend the 3:30 press conference. You may also encourage your children to attend, with or without you. It is only about a 15 minute walk from school. There is no adult oversight, so you must be comfortable allowing your child to navigate there and home. The community Discussion and Q&A are likewise open to all and we welcome everybody's attendance.
